Programma

13.30-15.00 We will look at the principles of language and learning that underpin teaching lexically and what it may imply for the way we write materials and use them. We will consider the importance of reflecting on and responding to real usage in and outside the class.

15.00-15.15 Pausa

15.15-16.30 From the questions that were posed about real usage before the break, we will see how we get improved feedback from students and how we can exploit course materials from the series 'Outcomes' more fully.
